July 2018

I hope you are all enjoying this wonderful hot weather—pimms, strawberries, tennis and football! Hand sewing in front on the television or much better in the garden—at least the grass has stopped growing!

Our June Meeting was an exciting and enthusiastic talk by Sue Atkinson, who showed us many beautiful finished items as well as those unfinished! Her Talk was titled 'Made with love' and certainly every quilt, wall hanging etc had a tale to tell.

Sue then ran three workshops over the weekend and those Members who attended really enjoyed the experience and learned some new techniques. Please bring in your finished Bag, Stained Glass Candle and Landscape.

A big thank you to Christine Stansfield and Pam Rose who organised the workshops and kept us all happy with cake! Thank you also to Gill Penn who hosted one workshop.

Bookham Village Day

I hope you all enjoyed Bookham Village Day. Many thanks to all those members who helped put up our display, ran the sales table and generally helped. Our stand looked fantastic as always. Thank you Sue Pindar for putting together the 'Bug Quilt' which was raffled and raised £176.10 for Bookham Village Association. Our sales table was run by Linda Keets and took £288.15 for Mole Valley Quilters.

Thank you to everyone who made items for the sales table. We now need to make more items for the Exhibition.

Perhaps the House Groups could make some items—please speak to Linda as she has many patterns!

Linus Quilts

Marie-Louise with her 'ladies' from 'In Stitches' has just sent 27 quilts to Linus—well done. If you would like to help make a quilt or have fabric you no longer want I am sure Marie-Louise would be delighted to give it a home!

Combat Stress

Gill Harris makes quilts for Combat Stress in Leatherhead—there are 33 patients at the unit and anyone willing to help please contact Gill.

Both Linus Quilts and Combat Stress are very worthy causes and any help you can give would be very welcome.—making tea or baking a cake!

Mole Valley Quilters Summer Lunch

Don't forget to sign up for our Summer Lunch on 2 August at Pam Rose's house in Ashted.

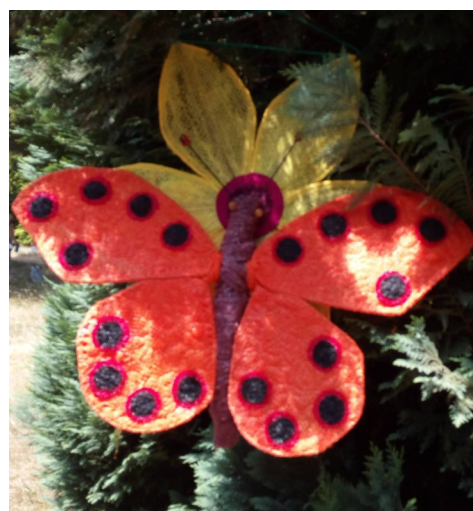

Summer challenge

If you have not yet started your Summer Challenge—there is still time ! Closing date is now September 6 Meeting. If you need more blue fabric please ask Ruth Archer.

Pollinators at Wisley

If you visit Wisley be sure to look for the Pollinators in Wilson Wood.

To celebrate the centenary of the Surrey Women's Institute each WI group was invited to create a "Perfect Pollinator" to be displayed in the Pinetum at RHS Wisley. Two MVQ Members, Ruth Archer and Gill Harris (who belong to Cobham Cedar WI) plus two other ladies created "Pollyanna Pollinator". All the materials used were recycled and included citrus fruit nets, wire coat hangers and chicken wire. Well worth a visit!
