Christmas Party

Hope you are looking forward to Thursday 4th December, our Christmas Party. Its good to get in early in the season before the lure of mince pies wears off! There will be some festive fare and fun activities and plenty of time for chat.

The creative activity this year involves an unwanted hardback book. It may seem sacrilege to go at a book with scissors and glue but if you can find something in a charity shop, say some obscure footballer's biography, then no harm done!

You will also need to bring

- scissors
- ruler
- pencil
- artificial foliage/flowers/berries

This is a beautiful example made by Eleanor

On Thursday evening.....
look out for the sign up sheet for the Denbies Afternoon Tea on Thursday 8th January 2pm for 2.30. We have to confirm numbers two weeks in advance which will be before Christmas.
Please check your diaries and commit your name to the list at next Thursday's meeting.

Whilst you are checking those diaries make sure you have the dates of the workshops and UFO days entered.

January 21st - Mini Quilts with Marie-Louise and Eleanor. This could be an opportunity to make your Easter Challenge!

February 28th - subject to be confirmed

March 21st - UFO day

April 25th - UFO day

Update on sales of Christmas items this year.....

A big 'thank you' to Marie Louise and her small team of helpers who have worked so hard to sell off our Christmas stock at The Cedar Club and the Ashted Peace Memorial Hall Market as well as selling to friends and family! They have raised £426 for our club and this enables us to treat ourselves to things like the Denbies tea and hall hire for workshops. So thank you ladies and to those who made the items over the last year or two, it's all put to a good purpose!

Our February meeting is a stay at home Zoom meeting. Who wants to be driving about on a dark February night? Pascale Michalski will be joining us to talk about her beautiful quilts and silk paintings.

Britt will be sending out the invitations to Zoom and has asked that when you receive the invitation that you reply to confirm receipt. I will remind you about this in January as well, we don't want anyone missing out!
